

Modern Luxury Interiors
January 2015
Burning Question

Burning Question

What's your favorite color trend right now? —RR

"Indigo blue is a color that I am craving to use right now. Maybe because it's winter and cold and I am dreaming of being transported to warmer days spent near the ocean."

—MEREDITH ELLIS, MEREDITH ELLIS DESIGN,
AUSTIN, MEREDITHELISDESIGN.COM

just illustrated from them.

—RUSSELL AND BIG CATES, PETERS CATES DESIGN, DALLAS, PETERSCATESDESIGN.COM

SHIRAZ 412
side chair, polyester
upholstery, $1,200
Kuhl-Linscomb

ALL THINGS

RAR COOL

If worldly inspirations during her multi-decade career that has crossed bold boundaries between nation to Meridith's pastimes: Texas in Texas. It was the natural next step of the latter that was. Comprising 30 pieces of furniture, upholstery and fabrics, the living is many things at once per design. Such virtues ring in items like the colonial Louis XV, an eco-style table or the best transitional worktops, as well as the alluring array of new materials and finishes. 9711 2506, 1111 Uptown Park Blvd., Suite 3, Houston, 77047, 2815 Alameda O'Donnell, Pearland, 280 W. River St., San Antonio, 281342-9011, info@meridith.com —Kate Almy

ALL THINGS

Burning Question

What's your favorite color trend right now? —RR

TRUE BLUE
Poppy Indigo
collection, $175-$210,
by John Robshaw, johnrobshaw.com or
by special order at Kuhl-Linscomb, Houston

SHIRAZ 412
side chair, polyester
upholstery, $1,200
Kuhl-Linscomb

"Indigo blue is a color that I am craving to use right now. Maybe because it's winter and cold and I am dreaming of being transported to warmer days spent near the ocean."

—MEREDITH ELLIS, MEREDITH ELLIS DESIGN,
AUSTIN, MEREDITHELISDESIGN.COM

"I'm seeing a lot of soft neutrals. My love for this combination goes back years ago to visiting the Villa d'Este in Italy. The structure was wonderful, but I kept looking at the place, which was a combination of white, beige and grey."

—CORINNE LEFEVRE, DESIGN HOUSE,
HOUSTON, DESIGNHOUSE.COM